Where Should You Go For Care?

There are many different types of medical care. Use this to help choose the best type of care as your needs change.

Nurse Line

Not sure if you need to see the doctor? Each health plan has a nurse line that is available to answer questions and help make treatment plans. Nurse Lines are available 24/7 with no fees.

Use the Nurse Line for:

- Cough, cold, allergy or chest infections.
- Abdominal pain, diarrhea, and vomiting.
- Injuries, including burns, bug bites and rashes.
- Sinus pain or pressure.
- Medications and side effects.
- Ear and eye pain.
- Bladder or urinary tract infections.
- Yeast infections.

Nurse Line

Urgent Care

There are times when you need to see a doctor but can't get a same day appointment. Urgent Care provides same day care for non-emergency issues. Insurance covers Urgent Care visits but the co-pay is larger than clinic visits.

Visit Urgent Care for:

- Illnesses, including colds, flu, stomach aches or ear infections.
- Respiratory or breathing problems.
- Nausea, vomiting, diarrhea or dehydration.
- Sinus problems and allergies.
- Broken bones, dislocations, sprains and strains.
- Minor cuts and injuries.
- Severe headaches and migraines.
- Bladder or urinary tract infections.
- When you feel you can't wait to see your doctor.

Urgent Care

Primary Care Clinic

Primary Care Clinic

Your clinic should be   your first choice for sick and wellness visits. Seeing your primary physician for health concerns uses a team-based approach and improves the quality of care.

Preventative care visits generally have no out-of-pocket fees. Other office visits may have a minimum co-pay.

Go to your primary clinic for:

- Chronic disease management.
- Depression, stress and anxiety.
- Immunizations.
- Care for infants and children.
- Physicals and preventative screenings.
- Men's and women's health issues.
- Minor surgeries, illnesses and injuries.

Emergency Room

Emergency Room

The Emergency Room (ER) provides care for serious, life-threatening conditions or night-time care that can't wait until the next day.

The serious level of care provided by ER staff can cause long wait times and visits have the highest co-pay fees.

Emergency conditions include:

- Chest pain, pressure or difficulty breathing.
- Head injuries, sudden loss of consciousness or paralysis.
- Seizures.
- Severe abdominal pain.
- Severe cuts, uncontrolled bleeding or broken bones.
- Poisoning concerns.
- Drug or alcohol overdose situations.
- Suicidal thoughts or actions.

When you screen it - It is easier to treat it!

Screening is one of the main tools Public Health uses to fight diseases and support child development.

Most screens are covered by your insurance or have no out-of-pocket fees.

Are you up to date on your screens?

Your child's doctor screens for these at visits:

- Physical health, including height, weight, and blood pressure at every visit.
- Socio-emotional and mental health observation at every visit.
- Blood lead level between 12 and 24 months.
- Hearing and vision starting at age 3.
- Fluoride varnish is applied after the eruption of the first tooth through age 5.
- Developmental screens, including autism spectrum, from birth through early childhood.
- Alcohol, tobacco and other drug risk assessment starting at age 11.
- Reproductive health risk assessment after age 11.

Screens done by the school

- Age 3? Time to screen! Early childhood screening is a process that supports children being ready for Kindergarten.
